NEW HEAD BUSINESS UNIT PENSION BENEFITS ZURICH

Zurich, May 4, 2021 – Sabrina Wicki Hildebrand took over the management of the Pension Benefits business unit at Kessler Zurich on May 1, 2021.

Kessler has appointed Sabrina Wicki Hildebrand as Head Business Unit Pension Benefits in Zurich. She replaces Stefan Leuenberger, who had been managing the division on an interim basis since being appointed to the Executive Committee.

Sabrina Wicki Hildebrand began her career at Kessler on May 1, 2007 as a pension benefits broker. In her most recent role as Team Leader Pension Benefits, she was responsible for clients in the areas of financial services, chemicals, pharmaceuticals, life sciences, health and the public sector. She has a bachelor's degree in Business Administration with a specialization in finance, as well as a Master's in Risk Management.

The general conditions in the pensions industry are challenging for companies. Stefan Leuenberger, who serves on the Executive Committee and is responsible for Health & Benefits, is delighted with the appointment: "I am convinced that, in Sabrina Wicki Hildebrand, we have chosen the right person to lead the business unit – not least because of her expertise and competence in advising customers, her excellent organizational abilities and her outstanding commitment to our company. I wish her every success and satisfaction in her new role."
